

Religious Emphasis Week Brings to Campus Four Important Speakers

College President Welcomes Students

Dr. Jones Discusses High Ideals as Fundamental Design for Living.

Baptist Minister Speaks

Ministers of Maryville Churches Participate in Welcoming Students to Community.

Dr. Jones, president of the College, explained his "Design for College Living" in the inaugurating assembly last Wednesday, September 14.

He divided his welcoming speech into three phases: the first concerned "scholastic achievement," the second, "gracious living," and the third was devoted to "ethical ideals."

Stresses Over-all Picture

Stressing the importance of college life in the over-all picture, the President said, in speaking primarily to the freshmen, who were in the majority, "What you really come to school for is represented on commencement day when you get your degree from this institution. I hope you attain your goal."

More than just the development of scholarship and athletics is to be the College's aim. It is also to strengthen the character of the individual person; it is to educate one to high scholastic achievement, to a form of gracious living and ethical ideals, and to develop the spirit of humor, recreation, and music so that "when you get a college degree, you will be known as a college educated person."

Future Brings Responsibility
Expressing the influence of scholastic achievement, the President said that the future is in the hands of the brains—people who think and work with thoughts. It is a grave responsibility."

The conduct of ladies and gentlemen is all we ask of college people and a thing of which I am quite proud is that as a general rule, the young men and women who attend this College are ladies and gentlemen," said the president in elaborating on his second ideal.

Standards Will Help
Reaching the third point of his talk, he declared that this College affiliates with the Church in helping the students to grow in these ethical standards of life and living.

Putting forth the ideals of the spirit of music, humor, recreation, and student meetings, the President maintained that "Some day you will receive a note that says your class is going to have a reunion, and you will come back to talk over the things that happened at this college when you were here, and you will live again those days that you are now living as college students." A recollection of the better things of college life depends upon the students' present design of college living.

"Enjoy yourselves," he added, "you will find faculty members are aware that good times contribute to the lives of young people. They will extend to you every opportunity they can to make your life here happy." "This is your college. I commend it to you for what you want to make it."

Sam Carpenter Presides
Sam Carpenter, student body president, presided over the assembly. He announced that a free ticket will be given to the student suggesting the best slogan to be used during the homecoming.

Carpenter introduced the Rev. G. Howard Linton, pastor of the First Baptist church, who made an address to the group welcoming the students to the churches of Maryville and asking them to come to church. The Rev. Linton introduced the following ministers: Rev. Arthur Raeside, First Presbyterian church; Rev. D. Franklin Kohl, First Christian church; Rev. Richard Garlich, St. Paul's Episcopal church; and Rev. Ottis Sayes, Church of the Nazarene.

In his address the Rev. Linton made the following points: (1) the churches of Maryville hope to make it possible for the students at the college to do what their parents want them to do and that is to be close to the church. (2) the churches hope to have the privilege of bringing to the students something that is like what they left at home, and (3) the churches hope to have the privilege of enriching the students work at the college so that they will be well rounded individuals.

Miss Jessie Jutten Likes Switzerland

Member of Faculty Visits European Countries During Summer.

Miss Jessie Jutten, of the physical education department took a two-months' trip to Europe this summer, sailing on the Queen Elizabeth, June 30, and arriving at Cherbourg, July 5. She first went to the Eiffel Tower, Arch of Triumph, Tuilleries Gardens, Tomb of Napoleon, Louvre and other places of interest. After doing some shopping and seeing the Folies Bergere, she spent a day in Versailles and Malmaison.

Switzerland was next, Lucerne and Interlocken. She took a motor trip through the Alps and saw the Rhone Glacier. Miss Jutten maintains that Switzerland is her favorite spot.

From Switzerland she went to Luxembourg, where she planned to visit the grave of General Patton, but because 3000 of the 8000 American soldiers buried there were being returned to the United States, the cemetery was closed to the public.

She spent some time in The Hague, Holland. She visited the Peace Palace, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Voldam and the Isle of Marken.

Children Ride Too!

Denmark was the next country. One of the things that impressed her most was the thousands of bicycles. Everyone rides bicycles in Denmark children ride in baskets on the front and back of the bicycles. In Copenhagen she attended the first International Congress of Physical Education for Girls and Women. Approximately 250 women from 25 different countries attended. Miss Jutten found especially interesting the representatives from Iceland, India, Israel, South Africa and Australia.

After the Congress she went to Stockholm to attend the Linglad, a sort of festival dedicated to Ling, the father of Swedish gymnastics. It is similar to the Olympics in that representatives from many different countries come to demonstrate their accomplishments in gymnastics. It is unlike the Olympics in that a skillful demonstration in mass gymnastics and apparatus work, not competition, is the aim. The women from Finland and the men from Norway were especially outstanding. Two other interesting demonstrations were mass gymnastics performed by 5000 housewives and apparatus work and gymnastics done by men over 50 years of age. Both the latter groups were from Sweden.

Miss Jutten Visits Bolinders

While in Sweden she visited at the home of Barbo Bolinder's family in Sandviken. Barbo is now in her second year here at the College. While in Norway, Miss Jutten took a four day trip by steamer through the fjords, the most scenic phase of the whole trip.

England Comes Next

She then went across the North Sea to England, visiting first the lake country in northern England, then Ayr, Scotland, home of Robert Burns, and Edinburgh. Later she went down to London where she saw the Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, Buckingham Palace (where she watched the changing of the guard), Jcken's Old Curiosity Shop, had lunch at the Cheshire Cheese or Ben Johnson fame, and Piccadilly Circus which is comparable to New York's 42nd and Broadway. She saw three plays in London--"Traveler's Joy," "Song of Norway," and Paul Muni in "Death of a Salesman." One day was spent on an all-day trip to Stratford-on-Avon, Shakespeare's home.

In London and also in Paris she visited with friends with whom she had served in the Marine Corps.

College Has New Name

The name of the College was changed, July 21, to "Northwest Missouri State College." The word "Teachers" was removed from the title of the college by action of the board of regents who met at St. Joseph. Announcement of the decision was made by President J. W. Jones.

The proposition to change the name had been suggested to the board of regents in recent years after the legislature had made this action possible.

Other state colleges at Cape Girardeau, Springfield and Warrensburg have dropped the word "Teachers" on action of their boards of regents.

Present at the meeting on July 21 were Regents R. L. Douglas and J. V. Gaddy of St. Joseph, Joe Roberts of Gallatin, A. B. Kammerer of Chillicothe, M. E. Ford of Maryville, and Alan F. Wherry of Liberty. Mr. Ford is chairman of the board.

Dr. Surrey Plans Assembly Programs

The assembly programs for this fall quarter, as planned and scheduled by Dr. Sterling Surrey, assembly committee chairman, promise to be both educational and entertaining.

As Dr. Surrey has previously stated, he is attempting to develop programs which will be "entertainingly educational."

Other prominent lecturers will be the psychologist and author, Dr. Harry Overstreet, and Mr. Donald Grant whose topic will have to do with Russia.

Pointing more towards entertainment will be the program of Louis Crowder, noted pianist. Of equal interest will be the entertainment of the music department faculty on September 21 and the music department students on October 19.

Other important activities are Religious Emphasis Week and the two day session of the District Teachers meeting.

Price Leaves College; Becomes State Librarian

At the end of the spring term, Mr. Paxton Price, librarian of the College, was elected state librarian. He moved to Jefferson City the first of August to make his home.

Mr. Price came to the College in July of 1947. He introduced several new features at the College library, considered one of the finest library buildings in the midwest.

England Comes Next

In his address the Rev. Linton made the following points: (1) the churches of Maryville hope to make it possible for the students at the college to do what their parents want them to do and that is to be close to the church. (2) the churches hope to have the privilege of bringing to the students something that is like what they left at home, and (3) the churches hope to have the privilege of enriching the students work at the college so that they will be well rounded individuals.

Mr. Valk Announces Opening of New Shop

Industrial Arts Students Will Study Model to Be Used in High Schools.

Mr. D. N. Valk, chairman of the industrial arts department, has announced the opening of a new general shop, a model of the type recommended for secondary schools of this district. It has been set up to give industrial arts students an opportunity to study the operation of a high school general shop.

"General metal" is the official title of the course being taught in the new shop. Thirty students are enrolled. The course will be a requirement for all students who major or minor in industrial arts.

Time spent in the class, which meets two hours a day, will be divided between discussion periods and shop work.

Classroom work will consist of discussions concerning the operation of a general shop. Special emphasis will be placed on the problems involved in organizing and setting up a high school general shop.

Shop work will include foundry, sheet metal, forging, bench metal, wood turning, wood working, concrete work and some electrical work.

Some new equipment has been purchased, including a bench saw, two jig saws, a wood lathe, and a jointer. A wood working bench and an electrical bench were built in the industrial arts shops. The general shop also has a sheet metal lathe, a metal shaper, and a complete foundry.

Other officers are chosen

Mr. Ringold Is Making Satisfactory Recovery

Mr. Howard Ringold, of the industrial arts department, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident, in August, has been dismissed from the hospital in Council Bluffs, Iowa. He is now making a satisfactory recovery at the home of Lester Babb, 414 West Fifth.

Mr. Ringold suffered a severe jaw fracture and a concussion, August 18, in an accident in which Mrs. Ringold was badly cut and their daughter, Karen, was killed. The Ringold car collided with a locomotive near Truesdale, Iowa. The victims were taken to a Storm Lake, Iowa, hospital. Later Mr. Ringold was taken to the Mercy Hospital at Council Bluffs where specialists reduced the fracture.

The Ringolds had been vacationing with the John Smay and Myron Rose families and were enroute home when the accident occurred.

Dr. Uel W. Lamkin's Condition Is Improving

The condition of Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, president emeritus of the College, who has been ill since April is gradually improving. After about two months in the St. Francis Hospital, he was able to return to his home at 3 Elm Square.

Dr. Lamkin was planning to make a trip of inspection to the United States Military Academy at West Point at the time he became ill. He had been appointed to the board of visitors by President Truman.

Two College Instructors Have Been in Hospital

Two instructors from the College have been admitted to the St. Francis Hospital in Maryville. Miss Katherine Franken was admitted to the hospital Sunday, September 4, and underwent an operation Wednesday, September 7. She is making a rapid recovery and hopes to be back on the campus in about a month.

Miss Grace Shepard, who was admitted to the hospital for observation and treatment, has been released but will return later for an operation.

Miss Ross and Miss Gorsuch Return

Misses Neva Ross and Anne Gorsuch have returned to teach in the Horace Mann Laboratory school this fall. Miss Ross will teach Grade 5. Both have been on leave this past year to complete requirements for their masters' degrees at the Teachers' College, Columbia University.

FACULTY ADVISER..... Miss Violette Hunter

THAT FRIENDLY GENTLEMAN!

That friendly gentleman who was Dean of the Faculty for four years is gone. You know the man. The one who used to hail you anytime or anywhere and ask you how you were. Yep, that's the one I mean. That's Dr. M. C. Cunningham and he's gone away.

Students here and faculty and all those people of the Maryville community who were blessed with his acquaintance carry an empty feeling. Doc Cunningham was one who left his mark of congeniality with all of his acquaintances.

To many a new student at the College Dr. Cunningham has been a guiding hand, a beacon of light stretched out across the darkness of a freshman year. His willing advice and gift of his own free time to the use of those who would use it are only a few of the truly great qualities of a man never to be forgotten 'on the hill' at Northwest Missouri State.

Only last Spring the '49er edition of the College yearbook was dedicated to this man and his work. "Through his efforts problems of individual students became golden nuggets of experience in the stream of life." The truth of these words has struck home now that he has gone.

For Dr. M. C. Cunningham and his family, people of Maryville and the associates and students of his at the College have only wishes for the best of everything, always, in his new position as President of the Teachers College at Fort Hays, Kansas.—Bill Elam.

SUPPORT THE BEARCATS!

Head Coach Ryland Milner starts his thirteenth football season with a past record that proves he will again have a winning team for the College. His charges have won four championships, have been co-champions twice and have never finished below third place in the MIAA conference.

Assisting Coach Milner are Mr. E. A. "Lefty" Davis, head of the athletic department, Mr. Dewey Allgood, Jr., and Mr. Lon Wilson who are experienced in helping form winning teams. Allgood is a new man. Wilson has coached many winning teams in this section of the state.

Twenty-nine letter men have returned this fall. Positions of three lost from graduation will be difficult to fill, but some new members of the squad are showing more promise and ability than any new men ever coached by Mr. Milner. With a good bus for games away from home and a new stadium ready for the first home game, the team has more to encourage them.

One thing more is needed for a championship, the complete backing of every college student and member of the college personnel. Do not miss a home game. Be there and let the team know you are proud of them; do your part in helping them form the best football team in Bearcat history.

—Carl Detter.

A WORD FOR FRESHMEN

Will your objectives bear scrutiny? You should have certain fundamental goals to attain during your stay here. Numerous notables have given us objectives of higher education, but here is one of the best given us by Thomas Jefferson: "to develop the reasoning faculties of our youth, enlarge their minds, cultivate their morals, and instill into them the precepts of virtue and order; . . . and generally to form them to habits of reflection and correct action, rendering them examples of virtue to others, and of happiness within themselves."

The college is not a place merely for idleness and triviality. President Wilson said the college "is for the training of the men who are to rise above the ranks. This is a place where truth is to be sought regardless of whether it confirms or refutes your previous ideas." "And the truth shall make you free" — more so, I believe, it is the pursuit of truth that shall make you free.

Every graduate now out in the world knows that recalling only "good times" is not sufficient preparation. He knows that he should have gone forth from college laden with a store of mental and spiritual wealth that should give authority and dignity to his later life.

What are you going to do?

—Wilbur Pollard

Fatal Accident Takes Karen Ringold's Life

Karen Ringold, age 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ringold, was injured fatally when the Ringold car and a Milwaukee railway locomotive collided. Karen's father, who is an industrial arts instructor at the College, was seriously injured and her mother badly cut in the accident.

The accident occurred near Truesdale, Iowa, late in the afternoon of August 18, during a heavy rainstorm. The victims were taken to a Storm Lake hospital, where Karen died several hours later.

Karen Dorothy, the Ringolds' only daughter, was born May 3, 1943.

She attended nursery school and kindergarten at Horace Mann and would have been in the first grade this fall. She attended the Methodist church and Sunday school, where both her parents are active in church work.

Funeral services were held August 24, at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church, conducted by the Rev. J. W. Ward of Maryville. Burial was in the Hopkins cemetery.

Dr. Edwin Harris Colbert Is Subject of Post Article

The life work of Dr. Edward Harris Colbert was described in a recent issue of Saturday Evening Post in a lengthy article, "The Man Who Hunted Old Bones," by John Kobler.

Dr. Colbert, curator of reptiles at the American Museum of Natural History and professor of paleontology at Columbia University in New York, is one of the nation's most distinguished scientists in the field of paleontology.

The story is of interest to the College because Dr. Colbert was formerly from Maryville and the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Colbert, 223 East Seventh Street. As the guest lecturer at the College February lectures last year, Dr. Colbert spoke on "The Long Reign of the Dinosaurs."

Reception

Receptions are given in honor of distinguished visitors, the faculty, the student body, or other groups. There are traditional receptions such as the faculty reception for the Upperclassmen and Freshmen, and the President's reception for the Seniors each spring.

Guests are usually greeted at the door, taken to the head of the receiving line, and introduced to the hostess. If no one is near the door to perform that duty, the guest introduces himself to the first person in the line. If a man has brought a woman to the affair, he introduces himself and then his partner. The hostess makes introductions to the guest of honor, or to the next in line, who in turn makes introductions to the next, and so on. When the line is long, it may be necessary for the guest to repeat his name several times before reaching the end of the line.

One Should Remember Names

One should avoid stopping at the end of the receiving line to converse with friends. To avoid congestion and confusion, move to other parts of the room. It is quite proper, however to speak briefly to those in the receiving line if no other guests immediately follow you. Since the crowd is usually large, you must take some initiative in introducing yourself to others and helping them feel at ease. Much the same type of food or drink is served at a reception as at a tea. It is a social advantage to remember names and faces. At a reception you should be alert to make the acquaintance of new people and to remember names as you are introduced.

Correct Attire Is Suggested

You remain at a reception at least half an hour. If the hostess is busy receiving other guests, it is unnecessary to speak to her on leaving. If the affair is not a large one and she is unoccupied, it is best to bid her goodbye and thank her.

An afternoon dress with a hat is correct attire for an afternoon reception. If the evening reception is formal, an evening dress (with or without a jacket) is worn; a hat is not worn unless it is a special hat for evening wear; if an evening reception is not formal, the dress is the same as for an afternoon reception.

The College Blue BookPresident Jones Will Be Member Two Committees

Dr. J. W. Jones, president of the College, has accepted an appointment to a committee on "Youth and Government," a project concerning legislative program supported by the Y. M. C. A. through its Hi-Y Movement.

The chairman of the program is Mr. Randall Foster of St. Louis.

President Jones is also scheduled as a consultant on a program of the Fourth National County and Rural Area Superintendents which will hold a meeting in Memphis, Tennessee, October 10-12, to discuss the question, "What constitutes an effective program of education of school personnel?"

This column will not slight the classics. In this category is a new album of Beethoven's "Eroica." It should be a major item in anyone's collection. Certainly the best of the recent recordings is an album made from European master recordings of the Amsterdam Orchestra, conducted by William Mengelberg.

"Bop" you say? Yea, man! Count Basie has a smoothie in his orch's arrangement of "Slidin'." Not new "bop," but well worth a listen, are Charlie Ventura's waxings of "Body and Soul," "Birdland," "Lullaby In Rhythm," and "Whaaya Say We Go?" The baritone sax works on the first number is terrific, per usual.

Now that this thing called "Bop" has reared its head, let us hear some comment, pro and con, on the subject. Who knows? You may get your name in the paper.

Until next issue, then, see you down at the "Hop."

The Stroller

Welcome to the campus, Freshmen! May your first year be a heckled and happy one! It is only fair for the Stroller to warn you that anything you say may be used against you. Look much and only think those things which you would not like to see in writing. There is only one exception . . . the Stroller is one person in whom you can confide your deepest secrets.

It gives me a warm college feeling to see those old green beans back on the campus again. Yes sir, and you freshmen will know what I mean by that warm college feeling about the time "Walkout Day" rolls around.

Make a random inquiry and what do you get? Well, as one freshman put it, "Oh? I didn't know you were married. But I should have known that you couldn't look that happy and still be single!"

A small car hauling a big trailer headed west the other day. The driver wasn't very big either, but I'll bet the combination will reach its destination. The driver was Jim Jennings. The campus will miss Jim, but he will be remembered as a man with a real purpose in life.

The campus is still radiating from the recent freshman counseling program, but not as much as one cute freshman girl who is still being counseled. Jerry, does she really need it or have you just cultivated a liking for your job?

I never pay much attention to stories, but there is a story concerning a certain Miss Riggs that must be a rosy one. The Stroller knows because when she was asked about it she turned red.

The persecuted exist in every part of the world, but the Stroller wonders whether in the case of a certain geography student things aren't going just a bit too far. Last quarter she had to get up at an unreasonable hour to reach class a reasonable number of times at 11:00. Now, Mr. Cauffield has moved his class up to 9:00 . . . Just keep your pins up, Barbara, you won't always have to go to geography classes.

Anyone wanting to run away—say to some place with a foreign sounding name—can find a "Little Deutschland" right on the campus. Guides are furnished to explain all of the intricacies of foreign interior decorating. (One of the guides will meet you at the door of Quad 5 to conduct you.) . . . Guthland also serves as a guide in St. Louis.

You would think that Coach Milner had been an air force officer the way the boys scramble when he enters the Bookstore. Guess they just automatically start practicing plays. Hope they don't make a habit of fumbling those coke bottles.

Our first home football game is September 30. The Stroller is hoping there will be something besides steel girders to sit on!

Just one more word for you freshman girls at Residence Hall. The place really does belong to you. The boys are just trying to get acquainted—not move in.

May I cordially leave now, holding your troubles and mine?

Merrill Chilcote, News-Press Editor, Talks at College

The picture of Ruth Snyder in her death cell was a "shocker" twenty some years ago, getting circulation in every paper in the country, but tastes have so changed that a picture of the President catching fly ball on the White House lawn would gain more interest today.

Thus, Merrill Chilcote, managing editor of the St. Joseph

NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN

FACULTY VACATIONS

sylvania, Delaware and Illinois. She reports she had some interesting side trips, including the Railroad Fair in Chicago.

During August, D. J. Blackwell of the business department went with his family to the Arkansas Ozarks and Hot Springs. He also spent a week visiting in Colorado, especially the Rocky Mountain area, and a few other states before he moved to Maryville, September 1.

Garrett Go To Colorado

W. T. Garrett of the biology department, with his family, drove about 3000 miles to and around the state of Colorado, visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Garrett says, "We did some honest to goodness camping." Hiking, fishing, visiting and enjoying a real vacation with his family and friends, he evidently had fun and visited many interesting places.

Elle Mae Morrey spent the summer visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Morrey, at Hurland.

W. A. Rickenbrode declares that he spent the summer at home and took no vacation.

Mary Evelyn Goodman attended summer school for twelve weeks at Texas State College for Women, Denton, Texas, working toward her M. A. degree.

Miss Brumbaugh Attends Meeting

Miss Lucille Brumbaugh visited one weekend with Miss Gladys Criswell at Mound City and one week at Fort Collins, attending a regional conference of the American Library Association.

James Johnson, with his wife and children, visited friends and relatives in Kansas and Arkansas, returning early to get settled in their new house.

Mrs. Graham Goes West

Mrs. Avila L. Graham, after a year's leave of absence, working toward her M. A. degree, is happy to be back at the College. She took a vacation trip to the west coast.

Miss Helen Fisher, president of Sigma Sigma Sigma, received the cup presented by Misses Polly Cramer, Alpha Sigma Alpha, and Ruth Holbrook, Delta Sigma Epsilon.

The Pan-Hellenic scholarship cup was established in the spring of 1948 by the three sororities on the campus, which make up the Pan-Hellenic Association. The winner of the cup is determined in the following manner: the grades of both actives and pledges are totaled, excluding summer quarter grades, and taking only the grades from the academic courses. Each sorority at the end of the spring quarter, turns in to the Dean's office a list of members and pledges with the number and designated quarters attended at this College during the past year. These lists of the three quarters' grades are then totaled, and the total is divided by the number of members for each of the three quarters.

On August 18, they were riding in a car driven by Mrs. Ford's brother-in-law, Mr. Kellar Major of Milwaukee. The driver of another auto hit a rear wheel of the Major's car at a Manitou intersection. Mrs. Ford suffered four broken ribs and Miss Dykes suffered a broken shoulder. Mr. Ford and other passengers in the car had slight injuries.

Miss Dykes and Mrs. Ford were taken to a Manitou hospital. Mrs. Ford has been released and is now home, 330 Grand Avenue, Maryville, but Miss Dykes will have to remain in the hospital a few more weeks.

New Stadium Construction Has Seating Capacity for 2250 Spectators

Plans for Stadium Began Last Winter

Workmen Finish Building Within Three Weeks Starting Time.

Pre-Fabricated Floor Used

Box Seats, Enclosed Rest Rooms, Concession Stands Are Added Grandstand Attractions.

The old wooden bleachers have been torn down and hauled away. In their stead is a steel structure capable of seating 2250 spectators. The $30,000 rejuvenating work was done by the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company of Des Moines, Iowa, and by the R. E. Wyman Construction Company of Maryville.

Maryville State College has needed a new stadium for a long time. In fact, it was a little too long as far as the rickety wooden bleachers were concerned. But it takes time to make requests and receive permissions. As early as 1941, plans had been made to construct such a stadium, but were forgotten after the Pearl Harbor disaster.

President Renews Plans

Plans were renewed last winter when President J. W. Jones directed Mr. Harold Neece, business manager, to begin an investigation of the cost of various types of stadiums. By March the prices of the selected construction companies were definite, and in May the construction of the stadium was authorized by the Board of Regents.

The bids of each construction company were taken; the executive board, headed by the president, Mr. M. E. Ford, and the vice-president, Mr. R. L. Douglas, made its selection and the contracts were signed. The R. E. Wyman Construction Company was to lay the cement footings; the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company was to construct the steel work.

Stadium Will Have Box Seats

The stadium is located on the west side of the field, and extends from one twenty-yard line to the other, making it 180 feet long. In the fore part of the grandstand are twenty-two box seats, each eight square feet.

Steel girders, extending upward from forty concrete piers, support ten rows of criss-crossing steel beams. These beams support an entire pre-fabricated metal floor onto which are bolted rectangular planks. The top of the stadium at the rear is nineteen feet above the ground.

R. T. Wright Exhibits Stamps at State Fair

An exhibit by R. T. Wright, agriculture department head, took third place in a specialized collection of stamps at the Missouri state fair. His exhibit of seven frames of "Agriculture on Stamps" was considered one of the three outstanding in the philatelic show held at Sedalia.

The grand award certificate and plaque of the 1949 philatelic show went to C. Turney Nearing of Decatur, Illinois, for his eight frame display of "Music on Stamps."

Physical Education Staff Takes a Breather

College Swimming Pool Is Open to Students

Coming up first on the intra-mural and co-recreational sports calendar are the swimming meet, water carnival, and relays. At this time no definite information can be given to what these events will be, but by the next edition of the paper, qualifications and other important information should be definite.

Yesterday, the co-recreational swimming started; that means fellows can take their girls swimming on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the evenings, starting at 7:00 and running until 10:00, and also on Saturday afternoons. This is a chance for the experts to practice for the meet that is coming up in November and for those who aren't so good to get around much better.

People who just like to paddle around for a while are welcome, and there are many things to be accomplished by just paddling around. There are plenty of opportunities for making new friends in the aquatic circles. For those who don't like to swim so well there are seats where they can watch the fun and frolic and then later enjoy the water.

Bearcats Play Emporia Friday, September 23

The Bearcats will face the gridironers from the College of Emporia on Friday, September 23, in making their second trip of the current football season.

According to Mr. E. A. "Lefty" Davis, director of the physical education department, the clash will be the first meeting on the gridiron between Maryville and the Kansas representatives. The Bearcats have in the past played the Emporia State Teachers team, not the College of Emporia.

Nothing is available concerning strength of the Emporia lineup, but undoubtedly an interesting intersectional contest will be in store for the players.

Bearcats Trim Hawk Wings in 27-13 Win

Coach Milner's Team Runs Wild in First Period Score Four Times.

Maryville's Bearcats blew hot and cold Friday night in their opening grid game to defeat the Hawks of Rockhurst College 27 to 13 on the Kansas City field.

Maryville lost no time in scoring. The Bearcats kicked off and John Hellerich of St. Joseph, a guard, recovered a Rockhurst fumble on the Cathart 23 line. Weed smashed for 3 after a pass failed. Pat Zuchowski tossed to John Zurchak of Kansas City, Kas., to the 5 line. Norman James of Albany sliced off 3 and Weed went the remaining distance for the first score. Donald Hoffman and Fitzgerald ended; Bullard and Eskew, tackles; Rodarte and Holtom, guards; Dick Aylward, center; Harry, quarterback; Bayard and Stapler, fullback; Brown, fullback.

Maryville substitutions: Hoffman, Gresham, Sherry, Sherry, Hemenway, Carter, Barrett, Lyle, Stanton, and Thompson, backfield; Hochenauer, Wormsley, Henggeler, Lemmon, guards; Jones, George Coulter, Henningsen, Younger, Klinman, ends; Hogue and Brandt, tackles.

Bill Elam Is President

Bill Elam has been re-elected president of the Dramatics Club. Monty Pitner is vice president and Bob Lister, secretary. "Joan of Lorraine" is to be the first play presented this year and tryouts will be held a few weeks before Homecoming.

To Broadcast About College

A broadcast about Northwest Missouri State College will be given at 12:45 p.m. Wednesday over KFEP. It will be given by Miss Hallie Barron of Clarksville, the northwest district vice-president of the Missouri Women's Press club.
